DX QRM

FT950 80W Antena FD4, BIM20-15M...3Z9K. It was my first CQ WPX RTTY contest and I really enjoyed it very much. A lot of "Big Gun" stations went over my QRP 5 watts near or over my frequency but I enjoyed the fight and I did my best as always. Best 72 and 73...4M5EN. Really bad conditions only few openings many stations with nice signal but endless cq test and never hear with care for a qrp or low power stations anyway nice try SEE NEXT YEAR...4M6CQ. Thanks for a fun contest. Serge VA3SB...4U1ITU. 73 de...4Z5KU. I enjoyed the contest...7K1VKU. Thank you for your great copy my QRP signal...7L4IOU. I enjoyed this contest. I very much enjoyed my first participation in the RTTY version. I also don't seem to get many opportunities to operate the major contests from VE3KTB. You guys are so much easier to hear than when at VYØERC!...CG3KTB. Could have done better if I didn't have to stop to shovel snow! Used CG3 prefix for Canada's 150th celebration...CG3TW. A few hours here and there, spread over workable bands flying the 150th CDA birthday prefix. Seemed like decent condx in the brief time I operated with lots of activity. 73, Bill...C12LI. Fantastic activity level but heavy QRM. HF bands disappointing, nothing on 10m and very weak signals on 15m. No JA or ZL heard here and only one VK worked. 80m was especially good and busy! Equipment TS990 (95W) Hexbeam at 25ft, 40m quarter wave vertical wire, 80m full wave loop...GM8SBH. I chose to do a single band effort on 20m as 15 has been dire this year and 10m nonexistent. I have no antenna for the lower bands. Conditions on 20m were poor on Saturday and perhaps a little better on Sunday. Heard very little from South America or even Africa. DX Asia was pretty sparse also. So, not a great effort. Some of the European signals were horrendously strong and in fact a station signing QRP managed to block the front end of my K3. Very powerful signal from Italy with 5W? The call I used is the Club Call for the GMDX Group Scotland's DX Association, so at least it got dusted down on RTTY. Its been a while since I did some serious RTTY contesting so perhaps I have some cotton wool in my ears...GS8VL. Had a stinking cold & bad head, so couldn't give as much as I would have liked. Still had some fun though. Nice to grab ZF9CW for a new slot on 40m RTTY too. My thanks to all for the points, and to CQ for hosting the contest...GUØSUP. The prefix multiplier format helps a lot in the current poor band conditions. No need to spend a lot of time chasing a difficult DX entity, just go for rate and the mults come along!...GWØA. First 50 or so Qs I noticed were all new mults, so I decided to make this a contest within a contest and work only new prefixes. My time was limited to just a few blocks of time throughout the weekend, and making a game out of searching for only new mults added a different challenge. Tuning up and down the bands I watched for red callsigns to decode in N1MM and then pounced on them! There were a few times when new prefix's were few and far between, and I was tempted to call CQ. But I didn't want to interrupt the perfect stream of red checkmark multipliers in the log! Sure wish I could have played all afternoon Sunday to the end of the contest. There are usually more “new” stations calling CQ the last few hours of the contest, and I may have been able to reach 500/500, Qs and mults. I don't usually have much luck with low power and low antennas attracting other S&Pers, so things turned out pretty productive for my allotted time to play. Band conditions seemed pretty good, but much better Sunday morning for EU DX on 15 and 20. Ended up with 57 DX entities worked and a few new ones for RTTY.
